

HOW DOES GENE KELLY GET HIS LIBRARY TO TALK, SING AND DANCE?

WITH HIS RCA VIDEO DISC PLAYER.

Gene Kelly has a library of great entertainment, classics and information. A library that moves, talks and teaches.

It's the library of RCA VideoDiscs he can take out and watch whenever he wants. A library you can build, too.

Just look at what you can put in your library: hundreds and hundreds of the world's finest movies; classic plays from Shakespeare; ballet and rock concerts; educational films about nature and history; great moments in sports; children's entertainment, and more.

At the heart of your library is the RCA VideoDisc Player—the remarkably simple machine that lets you watch all these great shows on your own TV.

And best of all, this library is inexpensive to build. Players start at $299*. Discs as low as $14.98*—less than the cost of a hardbound book. So see your RCA VideoDisc dealer today.
